Today's Objectives

- Overview and purpose of this Peer Learning Communities
- Consumer Education/Data Sharing Learning Areas
- Discussion of ongoing format and scheduling
- Next steps
- Professional development opportunities for August and September

Today's Discussion

- Lines are currently muted so that everyone can hear.
- Your input is important! This is an opportunity to share and discuss what is most important to you.
- Raise your hand if you want to unmute your phone line or you can type in a question or comment.
- We will also use polls to collect your feedback.

Previous Experience with a Peer Learning Community

Peer Learning Communities

- An opportunity to learn from each other
- Valuable because you each bring an understanding of the very unique challenges and experiences that you all face
- You each bring valuable real life expertise about providing CCR&R services so the learning experience can be deep, targeted and intentional

Making the Most of a Peer to Peer Learning Community

- Establish the priority topics and set agendas
- Ensure the right people are at the table
- Brief pre-reading and/or formulation of burning questions about the up-coming topic
- Speak with others in your organization that will not be participating in order to gain wide perspective from within your organization
- Be willing to share and participate during Peer Learning Sessions
- Take back what you have heard to your organization to further promote discussion and learning

Who Should Participate

- Consumer Education Specialists/Program Directors
- Data specialists
- Others?

What Day is Best?

Ongoing Communications

Key Question

- At the end of a peer learning session, for you to believe that the time was worthwhile, what would have happened?

Consumer Education Priority Topics

Next Steps

- Identify Peer Learning Community participants
- Based on your feedback today, CCA will identify top topics for discussion for August and September
- Set the agendas- for some discussions subject matter experts may be brought in for webinars, lunch in learns or other information sharing format followed by a Peer Learning Community session(s) to discuss implementation strategies, challenges and local successes

Follow up from CCA

- Email on the days, times and subjects of the next two monthly calls
- Respond letting me know who from your agency will be participating

Upcoming Opportunities

- August 1st- CCDBG Consumer Education and Effective Child Care Referrals webinar featuring the Office of Child Care, Minnesota and Idaho CCR&R representatives discussing their experiences with data sharing
- Lunch and Learn sessions on NDS
- Additional information will be available on childcare.gov design <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/occ/national-website-and-hotline-project>
- Follow up information and discussion within the data sharing and/or consumer education learning community from CCA
